WE SYMPATHIZE

I can well understand how those kids in Richmond, other points in Contra Costa and throughout the state and nation felt when they read yesterday morning of the cancellation of the jamboree at Washington.

It was a heart-breaking blow, and no mistake. Their hopes had been raised high and it was a shame the fortuitous circumstances decreed otherwise. I have not grown so old or my mind so set in cement, but that I retain some understanding sympathy with boys and youths.

Their disappointments are as keen, perhaps keener, than some of us old stagers, who have learned to take it on the chin with a certain degree of philosophy, shrug our shoulders and without much effort or hurt, accept disappointments with stoical calm. Disillusion and disappointment cut deep in our formative years, and always leave scars which we carry with us to the end of our days.

The boys will not be entirely deprived of any question for the efforts which rated them the trip to the national capital, and although they will have an enjoyable time at some other spot, it just will not, and cannot, measure up to the expectations of the original plans for the jamboree. I know for I was once a boy myself.

WELL WORTH HEARING

When the tax-spending agencies of the county appear before the Board of Supervisors next Monday to justify inclusion of their demands in the tax rate for this fiscal year, doubtless we will hear explanations as novel and ingenious as those offered in traffic courts in extenuation of speeding and other charges, or those given by the small boy for his surreptitious raid on the jam jar in the pantry while mother was at the club or the Ladies Aid.

If the county fathers should accede to the requests for a rate for school, fire, lighting and sanitary districts the same as last year it would result in the raising of con-

Kingfish Charges Murder Plot In Senate Talk

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—UP—Senator Huey P. Long, D. La., pictured himself to the Senate today as a man whom political enemies would like to kill "right in the Senate."

He said he felt shaky when he learned this one midnight, reading the transcript of the New Orleans hotel meeting which his friends had obtained by means of a dictograph. But in daylight, he added, it seemed pretty funny.

Long sought to implicate the national administration in the "plot." He quoted an unidentified man as saying: "There never was a better time to get rid of Long. The entire resources of the United States are at our disposal. Then, too, we got some more income tax indictments."

Long added that he understood Governor O. K. Allen, his ally, was in line for indictment in what he termed administration persecution. One of his enemies, Long said, opened an anti-Long meeting with the statement:

"I'm out to murder, kill, lynch, steal or anything else to win this election."

Man Jailed On Bad Check Charge

Richmond police yesterday arrested Clyde Kitson, 28, at a local hotel, and are holding him for Stockton authorities.

Kitson was arrested on a warrant from Stockton, charging him with issuing bad checks.

He will be returned by San Joaquin county officers today.

Eight Liners Are Tied Up At S. F. Port

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 9.—UP—Eight ships lay idle in San Francisco harbor tonight, tied up by purported refusal of union maritime workers to handle their cargoes.

Three ships of the Calmar line, the freighters Calmar, Loemar and Veremar, were tied up when pickets of the Marine Engineers' Beneficial Association refused to permit work aboard the vessels. The waterfront employers' association reported.

Randolph Merriweather, secretary of the marine engineers' union, was said to have wired instructions to the union ordering a boycott of all Calmar line ships "because they have not signed the east coast agreement." His order reportedly applied to San Pedro, also.

Five vessels previously were tied up by union labor troubles. (Continued on Page 8)

South Suffers Scorching Heat

Pasadena's recording of 101 degrees was at 11:30 a. m. Hollywood's recording at 11:30 o'clock was 97 degrees.

Senate Committee Bans High Inheritance Tax

SOAK RICH RATES WILL BE REDUCED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—UP—Conservative members of the senate finance committee, apparently impressed by arguments that Henry Ford's vast estate could not be divided effectively under the inheritance features of the tax-the-rich bill, reportedly voted 11 to 8 today against the inheritance rates provided in the House measure.

The initial action indicated an inclination to cut down the rates and reduce the estimated $250,000,000 annual revenue.

SECRET MEETING

The committee worked in secret to rewrite the bill and bring it more in line with President Roosevelt's recommendations.

The problem of taxing an estate like Henry Ford's was brought up in the Senate yesterday by Senator Arthur Vandenberg, Republican, Michigan. Assuming for his argument that Ford's interest in the motor company was worth $300,000,000, Vandenberg pointed out that much of this value was represented by factory buildings and machines that would be virtually worthless except in a going concern. The tax-the-rich bill, he said, would force the Ford Motor Company "into the hands of Wall Street and the money changers."

VOTE IS TAKEN

Anxious to avoid pressure from both the left and right wings, the Senate committee took a formal vote on policy as soon as it went into secret session. The vote was on a motion not to divulge any part.

Letter Carriers To Hold Annual Conclave Here

Richmond has been selected as the 1935 convention site for the California Rural Letter Carriers' Association. It was learned yesterday.

The convention will be held here next July and will be attended by about 150 members of the Association. The Auxiliary to the Association will also hold its session here.

A Richmond man is an officer of the group. He is Charles Backcock, who was reelected as treasurer at the last convention. Other officers are William H. James, of Carpinteria, president; R. Gibbs, of Madera, vice president; J. C. Haskell, Jr., of Sausalito, secretary.

A program of entertainment will be mapped out by the local Chamber of Commerce. The conclave will be concluded with a banquet.

The organization held a convention here five years ago.

According to police the girl is reported to have run away from home several days ago. Thursday night they arrived here and attempted to rent a home in West Richmond. She assertedly told officers she planned to marry Green.

FIND EIGHT GUILTY OF S. O. PLOTS

RODESTO, Aug. 9.—UP—A jury today found eight San Francisco men guilty of plotting to disorganize the Standard Oil Company property near Patterson, Calif., on one of the county. They were acquitted on three other counts.

Conviction was on the charge of possession of dynamite.

The defendants were John Rogers, Victor Johnson, Rud Stauden, Lacey Chamberlin, John Burroughs, John Silva and R. L. Fitzgerald.

SENTENCE, 5 YEARS

Arguments on a motion for a new trial will be heard tomorrow. Superior Judge Roy B. Maxey will pronounce sentence Monday.

The jury recommended leniency charges on which the defendant were found not guilty included conspiracy to dynamite property, conspiracy to commit assault with deadly weapons, and possession of blackbirds.

The case, which has been under trial for five weeks, was given to the jury at 4:35 p. m. yesterday. The jury resumed deliberations at 7:45 a. m. today and during the morning asked a re-reading of a Maxey's instructions to the jury.

PLOT CHARGED

A re-reading of the testimony of R. L. Schwartz, special Standard Oil Company agent, as given at the trial and before the Standard Oil company grand jury also was requested. Schwartz' testimony in the two instances was said to conflict in several details.

Throughout the trial the prosecution contended the defendant had planned to blow up a hotel and other Standard Oil Company property as part of a terrorist plot in connection with the recent strike of oil tanker seamen.

The defense accused oil company operatives of "planting" the dynamite found in the cars of the defendants when they were arrested April 21.

Two fire workers from the lived camp said they saw the man described as resembling Miller near Lake Lake, Calif. They pursued the fugitive through sage brush and over rocks until he eluded them.

Miller is alleged to have been the companion of Clyde J. Johnson when Daw was shot down. Johnson was lynched by a mob at Yreka after his capture.

Clipper Ship Hops Off For Pacific Isle

ALAMEDA, Aug. 9.—UP—The first plane ever to head for Honolulu, Wake Islands, 5,000 miles west of Alameda, the 2 and four motored clipper plane of Pan American Airways took the air at 3 p. m. (PST) today.

A fresh wind whipped across San Francisco Bay as the 19-ton amphibian dashed over the water, lifted by the top of white capped waves and zoomed upward.

FIGHTS FOG

Bright sunshine gleamed from the silver colored hull and wings of the plane, plane the Pan American's projected 8,500 mile air route from California to China.

Over Golden Gate, however, and as far out as Farallone Islands, 33 miles off the coast, a dense fog rolled. Some 40 ships of the United States fleet were tied up outside the gate, unable to move through the blinding shroud.

The Clipper headed over the fog, then straight ahead its course to Honolulu, 2,400 miles distant, first stopping point on the flight to Wake.

SULLIVAN IN CHARGE

In command of the plane for the current hop, which will take the Clipper past the international date line and over the hump of the trans Pacific route, was R. O. D. Sullivan, chief officer on previous round trip flights to Honolulu and Midway Islands.

With Sullivan were J. H. Tilton, first officer; M. C. Weber, junior (Continued on Page 8)

Missing Utility Man Directed Lobby Battle

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—UP—The Senate lobby investigating committee today obtained evidence indicating that Howard Hopsan, missing founder of the Associated Gas & Electric company utility kingdom personally took part in directing the fight by power interests on the Wheeler-Rayburn bill.

Executives of the company who have testified thus far before the committee have sought to create the impression that the elusive power magnate took no active part in the campaign waged throughout the nation against the measure.

A telegram sent by Hopsan presumably to another utilities official on July 1 and made public by the committee said:

"I have just talked with the vice president of Standard Gas & Electric Co., and he advises me that they are in the fight to a finish. They are much encouraged and believe there is a possibility we may prevent any opportunity to affirm the threatened veto. We have more opportunity now to defeat the whole measure than many believe were the chances of our defeating merely the 'death sentence' when it was first announced to be an essential part of the 'most program'."

188 Drowned In Wreck Of Ships

TOKYO, Aug. 9.—UP—A typhoon ravaging Formosa drowned 188 persons aboard 49 fishing vessels in the vicinity of Keelung today, the Nippon Dempo News Agency reported.

Officials at Taihoku report rescue ships have been sent to the assistance of other vessels attempting to make port. Rescuers aboard one ship saw a boat sink with its crew of nine but they were unable to assist because of heavy seas.

Tulare Probes Two Paralysis Deaths

TULARE, Aug. 9.—UP—Tulare county health authorities tonight checked reports that Eleanor Hanson, 11, and her brother, Jack, 9, had died from infantile paralysis in the county hospital last night.

It was believed the cases were isolated instances, and did not represent any epidemic outbreak.

High Cost Of Meat Laid At Packers Door

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—UP—Charging that the big packing companies are responsible for the high cost of meat, which have cost Detroit housewives to boycott butchers, Representative John C. McCell, D. Mich., tonight called for an investigation by a select House committee.

"The housewives of Detroit are right in saying that prices are high, Dineell said, 'but the party is being boycotted.'"

Dineell announced he would introduce a resolution for investigation by a House committee of the members of "the spread between the price paid to the producer of hogs, cattle and sheep, and the price paid by the consumer or meat and other edible meat products."

WPA STRIKE IS SPREADING THRU NATION

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—UP—President Roosevelt said in effect today that employees under the $4,000,000,000 work relief program must take subsistence wages or go without jobs and home relief too.

He declined to recognize as a "strike" the refusal of New York work relief employees, to accept construction jobs. He described it as a return to their homes. If the men do not want to work, he added, they are under no compulsion to do so.

STRIKE IS ON

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—UP—The government's work relief program was endangered in several cities tonight as union craftsmen on Works Progress Administration jobs in greater New York joined the "Security wage" strike by the hundreds.

President Roosevelt, it was indicated at the White House, will support the WPA to the limit in maintaining the $3.50 a week subsistence wage, over which the strike is raging.

BLAME COMMUNISTS

General Hugh S. Jones, a New York WPA director, attributed the strike to Communists and extended until Monday night his ultimatum to striking WPA employees.

He said he was giving strikers the week-end to think it over, but still indicated his own intention. (Continued on Page 8)

Speaking

NEW YORK, Aug. 9. (AP)—What should prove to be the greatest outdoor polo season since the previous line Santa Paula riders from Argentina, on the U. S. Open title in 1931 will begin on TV next month at the Meadowbrook Club, Long Island, N. Y.

America's new polo season and a team of Englishmen will ride in the open to begin assuming Sept. 7 and it is expected that at least seven teams will battle for the highest polo trophy United States has to offer.

The team is sending the famed Hurlingham Club to compete in the first match to be played in America since the international series which it lost 2 matches to it in 1926. America will throw perhaps six of its highest-rated combinations onto the field in an effort to keep the open cup here.

BOASTS STRENGTH
Former defender v. l. is Tenspleton, last year's winner, led by Winston Guest, line-goal internationalist, Mike Phipps, Stewart Leleart, and Raymond Gust round out the defense's lineup.

Aurora, which won the title in 1933, will be the fielding up with Seymour Knox at No. 1; Jimmy Mills, N. Y. 50th Gerry, No. 2 and Billy Post, Los Angeles.

Tommy Hitchcock, Jr., considered one of polo's all-time stars, is expected to play with Greentree and Cecil Smith but playing Texas, probably will team up with a team headed by Devereux Mulham, veteran internationalist of a decade ago.

TEAMS NOT COMPLETE
Personnel of the other American teams has not been completed. The British team arrived earlier this month and has begun practicing for the open.

Members of the squad are: Captain M. P. Ansell, who is probably a No. 1 man; Eric H. Turill-Martin, Captain R. D. Soper, Captain Humphrey Guinness, and Captain H. C. Walcott.

Louie F. Stoddard, chairman of the United States Polo Association, believes the appearance of the English team in the U. S. Open will make 1935 a banner year for American polo. A veteran follower of the game, Stoddard, now nearing 60, places Hitchcock as the foremost player of all time.

LAURELS TO HITCHCOCK
"When it comes to the polo players I've seen, Stoddard said, "I'd put my chips on Hitchcock. He's got the number of things he can do with a polo ball when on a horse. Why you'd think he has a string attached to that ball the way he's hitting it at his prime a few years ago."

"There's nothing else more than a ball, a small ball, and a horse. If it's a horse to a polo player, it's a horse to a polo player. I'd put my chips on Hitchcock. Squires was demoted to Sacramento liquor administrator during the board chairmanship of Roy L. Riley, state controller.

Squires' salary was restored to $6000 yesterday at a secret meeting of the board, called without Squires' knowledge.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—
WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sore and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily, doesn't digest. It just dumps it. Your food gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your head is full. Your skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

Don't take for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Repeat a substitute. See at drug stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

BIG FIGHT TO BE HELD AT POLO GROUNDS

NEW YORK, Aug. 9. (AP)—Joe Louis will fight Max Baer at the Polo Grounds on September 26, and there isn't a chance that the big battle will be taken elsewhere. It was announced authoritatively here tonight.

While a dozen cities are bidding feverishly for the bout, promoter Mike Jacobs is convinced that New York is the only place where the prizefighting robot and the slugging slugger from the Pacific states can hope to have a $1,000,000 gate.

Jacobs listened politely today to the pleas of Sheldon Clark and his group of wealthy Illinois sportsmen that Louis and Baer could draw the above mentioned sum in Chicago.

The impresario scanned the offers of civic spirited citizens from all parts of the country, offering substantial guarantees to him and his backers if he would bring Joe and Max to their respective communities.

He received telegraphic propositions from determined boosters of Pittsburgh, Detroit, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Kansas City, Philadelphia and other towns—all of them seeking the Louis-Baer bashed as bait for their own battleships.

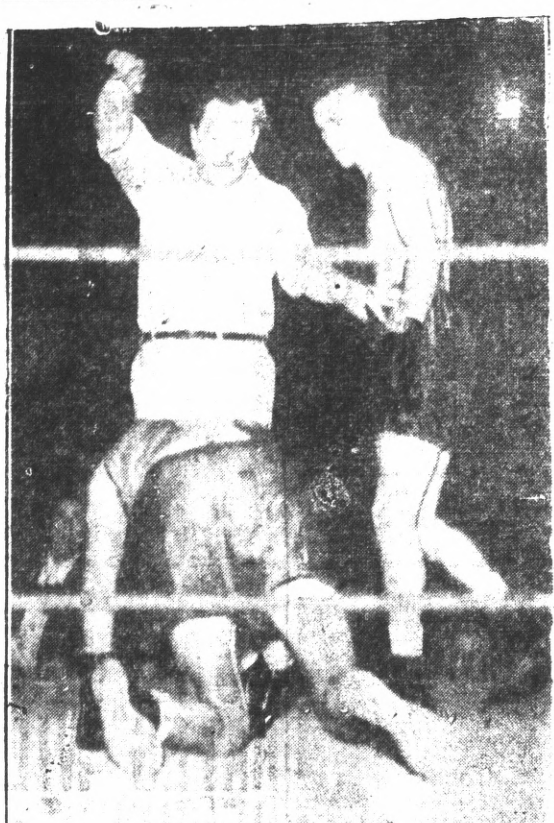

But wily Michael is convinced after various inquiries and surveys that he can do better at home than abroad and he will announce within a few days that the Polo Grounds will be the scene of the crime.

Jacobs is certain that he has a 50-50 attraction, and there are few towns that will stand that tap in the post-depression era. The money for fighters is in New York, his past performance has a proven record. And with the Giants likely to take part in the World Series he'll have additional revenue to reap by staging his spectacle at the eye of the baseball cyclone.

Persecution Of Jews Continues

BERLIN, Aug. 9. (AP)—Jews and Catholics today felt the full force of Nazi decrees against churches of the state. Synagogue measures were introduced despite protests against violence by Count Ernst von Reventlow, editor of Reichswacht, Nazi weekly.

In a leading editorial Reventlow sharply repudiated anti-Jewish violence. "Violence against the Jews is un-Christian," he said. "It does more harm than it helps. The Jews always have been and must be our neighbors."

Of brutal tactics, this editorial said the training camp used by his countrymen, Mexico, the most master of bullies.

ONE KILLED, 4 ARE SAVED IN BLAZE AT S. F.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 9.—(UP)—Trapped in his burning home, Forty-third avenue, Joshua Rapken, 50, wholesale liquor dealer, was killed today when he leaped two stories to the street. His skull was fractured.

Mrs. Pearl Rapken, 26, Rapken's wife; their son John, Jr., 7, and Miss Mary Machado, 26, a visitor from Los Angeles, were rescued by Leonard Mendoza, a neighbor.

The fire was discovered by Jack Mott, 15, a newsboy.

The youth told firemen he heard screams and the sound of breaking glass while he was delivering papers. He looked up, he said, to see Rapken poised in the window, flames roaring behind him. Rapken leaped. He was dead when taken to a hospital by neighbors.

Mendoza was working on his radio when he heard screams. He ran outdoors and saw smoke and flames billowing from the Rapken house. The two women and the boy were gesturing from a rear window.

Given a rope by another neighbor, Emmett Carter, 17, Mendoza tossed an end to Mrs. Rapken, who tied it to a bed post. John, Jr., slid down the rope to the ground, but the rope burned in two before the women could descend.

Firemen placed a ladder against the house and Mendoza scrambled up to the second story and helped Miss Machado down to the firemen below.

As the youth and Mrs. Rapken started down, the ladder swayed out and down. The two leaped into a firenet to safety.

Mrs. Rapken was seriously burned about the head and face. A fireman was injured when he fell down a flight of stairs.

Damage to the Rapken property was estimated at $5,000. The interior of the house was gutted. Two adjoining houses and two cars in a garage were damaged.

1936 LaFayette Coupe

LaFayette Coupe's Spare Tire Concealed Behind Pivoted Seat

In addition to streamlined, all-steel bodies and hydraulic brakes, Nash engineers have embodied several innovations in car design in the 1936 LaFayette coupe. The spare tire storage space shown above is one of these. Located behind the pivoted seat, the spare tire is out of sight and does not take up storage room in the spacious luggage compartment in the rear. The wide front seat in this new LaFayette makes it a three-passenger car. With a rumble it seats five, comfortably. The rear luggage compartment is one of the largest ever built on any car.

Mounted on the 113-inch LaFayette chassis, this new coupe is one of six body styles offered in this 1936 low priced line. Synchronized springing, an 83-horsepower motor and mid-section seating are other features of the 1936 LaFayette.

Delay Action On Plans For Scouters Trip

Local Scout officials yesterday delayed action on a proposal to take 20 local Scouters to the San Diego world fair, following announcement of the cancellation of the national jamboree at Washington.

A special meeting, has been called at Berkeley for the week end at which time it is expected that the Berkeley council may make some arrangements in which the local Scouts will join.

However, pending additional announcements from Washington, 100 Boy Scouts and 15 leaders from Berkeley-Contra Costa area have maintained their camp at the Berkeley headquarters and have prepared for a demonstration of Scout work at Edward stadium in Berkeley this afternoon at 3 p. m.

W. R. Whitten, of Berkeley, jamboree director, announced yesterday that C. J. Carlson, of Los Angeles, regional Scout executive is expected to arrive from the south today and address the Scouts at Edward stadium.

Parents of the boys will also attend the meeting at which plans for a substitute trip to another locality will be discussed.

Dr. A. B. Hinkley, who has been in charge of jamboree preparations here, said yesterday that he has received telephone calls from parents of many, who have asked him that something be done for the boys.

It is expected that a decision will be made within the very near future. One plan suggested by Dr. Hinkley, would take the 20 local Scouts and their leaders to the San Diego world fair to spend a week.

TIME TO BOOST FOR COMMUNITY GROWTH
"Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their country." Shouldn't we begin boosting El Cerrito as an ideal residential section? It really is that. There are open spaces for children to play in, good schools for them to attend, and real estate at present is not high. And when the bridges are finished we are only 20 minutes from San Francisco. That should be our slogan. We have only a few little things to do and then our growth will be rapid and certain.

HUSBAND HELD IN FISH POND MURDER PROBE

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 9.—(UP)—Robert S. James, 34, 1010 E. 10th, whose three wives had been found dead, face down in a fish pond, three days ago, today was held for investigation by the sheriff's office.

Mrs. Mary James, 32, a housewife, was the second of James' wives to die in a strange manner. A former wife, Winona James, was found dead Oct. 11, 1932, face down in a fish pond, with water.

James' arrest followed three days investigation by police, in which strange discrepancies were disclosed in his story. Among them were:

FIFTH WIFE
James' admission that Mrs. Mary James was his fifth and not his third wife, as he previously said.

Admission he had been married to Mrs. James only three weeks instead of three months, as he first declared.

Disclosure that his real name was Major Lisenbaw, not James.

Police also discovered James had purchased a quantity of cocaine, a powerful drug, supposedly to ease pain from which his wife, an expectant mother, was suffering.

INSURANCE FUND TOLD
Captain Norris J. Stenland, of the sheriff's office said, although sleeping tablets had been found in the James home, detectives had not found any of the cocaine.

The strange sequence of tragedy which stalked James' wives was also disclosed to have brought him more than $12,000 worth of insurance, and a prospect of an additional $16,400 for which Mrs. James the fifth was insured according to the sheriff's office.

Records showed James originally lived in Birmingham, Ala., and changed his name after he left there. His first marriage took place in Birmingham.

GIRL SCOUTS ACTIVITIES

There are only four more sessions of camp for the summer, and all Scouts are urged to attend before the season ends.

At Tuesday, Mrs. Katherine Davis, librarian of the Junior Department of the Richmond Public Library will be present at lunch and will have charge of the story hour afterward. She will tell of some of the new books that have recently been added to the library and will read parts of them.

At this same session Miss Doris Roswell, leader of Troop 8 will be present to help any artistic Scout in the designing of an emblem for her badge, and in doing sketches to charcoal.

On Thursday, August 16, First Aid will be demonstrated by a fireman from our city department through the courtesy of Chief Cooper. The last day of camp the Scouts are invited to bring to camp and the ceremony "Blessing the Camp" will be given, and awards for perfect attendance will be made.

Mrs. R. L. Wharton, leader of Troop 1 will be present on Tuesday, August 21, to help with bagging and the making of trays and mats.

Troop 2 is still in the lead for attendance, having had eight different members present most of the sessions.

At the last session on Thursday color bearers were Margaret Knotts, Troop 2, color bearers were Genevieve Brougham and Shirley Gehart, all Scouts with perfect attendance records.

A new handcraft, taught by Fern Johnston, lieutenant of Troop 2, and several Scouts made braided dolls under her leadership. Others made camp "gadgets" with jackknives.

The Green Team is now in the lead in the competitive games.

Visitors for the day on Thursday were: Pay Jones from Oakland, Shirley Jones and Alma Gaudin from Richmond.

Bray Presides On First Case

MARTINEZ, Aug. 9.—Hearing the first court case since his appointment as superior judge Tuesday, Superior Judge A. F. Bray today presided over trial of an action filed by John Alameda of Byron against Constable A. J. Leonard.

Alameda claims that Leonard placed an attachment on his automobile for a debt allegedly owed by Alameda's son, Anthony Alameda. The plaintiff charges that he owns the car and not his son and he is judgment.

Although Bray has conducted several official cases since being appointed judge, today was the first time he had ascended the bench to preside over a trial.

"Old Mill" Burns

THE FAVORITE attraction of engaged couples at Palisades Amusement Park, just across the Hudson from New York City, burned to the ground recently, endangering the lives of some 10,000 persons who had gathered for Sunday entertainment.

LYNCHING MOB MEMBERS NOT POINTED OUT

ARLICK, Aug. 9, U.P.—No members of the mob that lynched C. L. Johnson, colored police chief slayer, were identified at today's inquest into Johnson's death.

Deputy Attorney General J. Edgar Hoover, who presided at the hearing, conducted by Governor Henry Kimbrell, but charged no lead, to the identity of the mob.

Johnson came to his death August 2, 1935, in a crowd of mobsters, by strangulation, caused by being hung with a rope around his neck from a pine tree by a person or persons unknown.

He was identified after hearing testimony.

WITNESSES CALLED
One of the first witnesses, W. Henry Fleming Martin, who told the jury he was "lured" by a man carrying a gun to the site, when Johnson was lynched, Martin said he could not identify any members of the mob, most of whom were white men.

Deputy Sheriff Ed Matthews testified that he was called to bring Johnson to the city early Saturday as he searched for Robert Miller, John, an alleged companion in a mob, who that night had been shot by the police.

Dr. Lewis of Birmingham, 39 miles south of York, when he returned to York, Johnson had been taken from the jail and hanged to a tree three miles south of the city, he said.

DIED OF BROKEN NECK
Deputy Sheriff James, who took the body to the morgue, said he was forced to leave the jail and was taken 11 miles from York, and left to walk back without shoes.

Dr. Albert H. Newton, county physician, testified that in his opinion Johnson's death was caused by a broken neck rather than strangulation.

District Attorney Davis, who presided over the hearing, said he had opened an investigation in the case, and that all evidence obtained from the inquest and the separate inquiry later would be presented to the grand jury. He said the sheriff's office was giving full cooperation.

Johnson was to be buried in a pauper's field grave late today, a single floral offering was received for the service. It came from San Jose, presumably from a friend with whom he lived and worked there.

YOUR HEALTH

Nature Will Do Her Part If You Eat and Sleep Properly

By CLAUD NORTH CHRISMAN, M.D.

IT is necessary, in our continued discussion of what we should eat, to check up occasionally and decide whether our effort at a sustaining diet is confined to real foods or is suggested merely by the fads of our time or group.

As one dietitian says, "Do you feed your family or simply fill them?" And another wants to know whether it is really food or merely fancy that controls our choice. There are so many things to be considered and each person is a law unto himself.

The word "metabolism" that has a fearful sound to so many, means only the process of tearing down and building up that must go on constantly in every human body; in fact, it is the foundation principle of all life.

The essential need in this process is nutrition. For this nutrition to meet the demand it must be selected according to the circumstances, employment, age, build, and general makeup of each one of us. Moreover, the condition of the various organs, and the demands made upon them by the manner of living are important factors. Heredity has its effect and housing of one sort or another must be considered.

We Usually Overeat

During these days of serious economic disturbance, it is interesting to note how many of those on the relief rolls seem to maintain a fair degree of health. There isn't the slightest doubt that this is due to the fact that overeating is usually eliminated and foods are selected for their efficiency alone, and not by the fancy of those for whom provision is made.

It is rather strange that we always relate the word "intemperance" to the use of alcoholic liquors. One can be intemperate in the use of any article of food or drink and with much the same unfavorable results. It is easy enough to cater to our fancies, whether it is quantity or taste we crave. The most poorly paid office girl seems to be able to find funds for pop or chocolate sodas.

The important thing is to find out our needs and to try to meet them. Besides this selection and the desirability of providing the needed nutriment, there are further factors to be considered in allowing the body a chance to use the provided food.

The body tissues must be permitted to rest themselves of waste. The digestive machinery requires time to finish one job before beginning another. The digestive juices cannot flow freely or do their work effectively if the cells that provide them are chilled with ice water or scalded with hot coffee or overstimulated with spices or cocktails.

A Narrow Margin

Health authorities warn us that in all this opportunity for selectivity, we dare not forget that the body engineering is operated within rather narrow chemical limits. One writer says, "there is only a narrow margin between the alkalinity of health and the acidity of death."

Few of us know just what that means, but most of us understand that the normal, healthy, body is slightly alkaline. What we usually call acidity is only a reduction in the alkalinity. For if the body tissues really become acid, we should be suffering serious consequences.

One thing is certain, we cannot allow our individual notions to be leading us into continual changing our plan of diet. Nature is rather a pokey creature and takes time with all her processes.

One of the most difficult classes of patients in a medical office is made up of those who are always following indiscriminate advice or eating things because some one said, "they are good for you." Eat regularly, choose your food according to your needs, count vitamins rather than calories. Get a reasonable amount of sleep and rest, and nature will do her part.

Short Cuts

When creaming butter and sugar, and the butter is hard, try warming the sugar slightly, and they will cream together easily.

You can cut cheese into very thin slices without the cheese sticking to the knife. Just hold a piece of waxed paper over the knife while cutting.

To make red tea more attractive, color the ice cubes beforehand with a little strained tea. Also use a slice of lemon, a slice of a cherry frozen in the cubes.

Profiles For Today

Henry Ford Could Easily Fib About Age

By TALBOT LAKE

HENRY FORD recently celebrated his seventy-second birthday in typical Ford fashion. To begin with, he was on his annual vacation, and that means he went to his "cottage," a sixteen-room affair in the Huron Mountain Club grounds on the shores of Lake Superior, near Big Bay, Mich. It was how he arrived there that was so typical of the man. Mr. Ford traveled on one of his lake freighters, those hardy, useful carriers that are so familiar to those who live in the region of the Lakes.

What man of industry, steeped in millions of dollars and being so important a personage to so many workers would think of arriving at his summer place in a freighter? Nobody but Henry Ford would do that, and it is a tip-off on the kind of person he is—completely independent of the world as it is constituted and perfectly capable of thinking entirely his own way.

After the many years of activity Mr. Ford still looks, and is fit. If he wanted to he could fib about his age and chop off about twenty years, for his light, wiry body is stooped no more than it was that long ago. He has had a full life, but is not satisfied yet, for he peers ever onward into the future. At the present time, for instance, he is interested chiefly in getting industry and agriculture closer together, although, of course, immediate plans for the reopening of his plants occupy the foreground.

On his birthday the industrialist denied himself to reviewers, and since his camp lacked both telephone and telegraph wires, he enjoyed the privacy which is so very necessary to him. In the past a vacation meant a camping trip in the woods with his old friends, Thomas A. Edison and John Burroughs, but with their deaths he gave up the idea, and satisfied himself with the "civilized" camping he now indulges in.

Henry Ford will probably come out of his vacation on August 12 with some new ideas, and it won't be very long before the plans may get the benefit of them.

The jacket costume developed in a mustard yellow and black checked crepe has a simple one-piece frock with four pockets. The jacket is of the casual type, belted and easily bloused, with buttons repeating the color.

Exercise As Routine Will Serve Waist

By JACQUELINE HUNT

THE precious, lazy summer has nearly gone and with it your opportunities for playing tennis and golf, riding and swimming. Unless you have gone in for these outdoor activities regularly in spite of the heat, you are apt to find that your figure is a lot less supple and slender than you want it to be.

Sipping cool drinks and nibbling at crisp, buttery cookies while you sit in a comfy chair or swing is a pleasant way to spend your summer, but it also puts extra pounds where you do not want them. You can diet from now on, to be sure, but you will find that the surplus flesh on your hips and thighs comes off with exasperating slowness.

Your figure will be much more graceful and well-proportioned when you do your fall shopping, if you will get busy now and supplement your diet with a daily exercise routine. Check your weight and measure it regularly and see about how much you should lose and what you should lose it.

Some exercises will keep you supple and graceful, but will not necessarily take off the inches. Most of you whose figure faults are due to summer laziness will find that the exercises that do both are best for you.

To reduce the waistline, make it firm and flexible and strengthen the abdominal muscles, the bending exercises are best. These are usually simple and if you begin with enthusiasm will improve your figure in a surprisingly short time.

For this one, stand erect with the heels together. Then without bending the knees, reach forward and touch the floor with the fingertips. Straighten up to the first position and repeat ten times.

Now spread the feet wide apart, holding the arms straight out at shoulder level. Without bending the knees, twist your body to the left, making the fingertips of the right hand touch the foot. Return to the starting position, then reverse, touching the left hand to the foot.

Exercises taken while lying on the floor are best for the hips. Lie down flat on your back, with the arms outstretched and the ankles together. Leave the legs straight on the floor and raise the right and crossing it over the left, try to touch the floor with your toes as far out to the side as possible. Keep the right knee stiff and the left hip on the floor. Now reverse, crossing the left leg over the right. Repeat twenty times.

Finally raise both knees up to your chest and grasp them firmly with your hands. Keep your shoulders flat on the floor, but roll the hips from side to side, pressing of the floor. This is good for ironing away the excess fat across your hips.

Beauty Tips

QUESTION: "I am fourteen. The skin on my hands and face is very tender and becomes rough and chapped whenever I am outdoors for any length of time. I wash my face thoroughly twice a day and use a hand lotion. My mother objects to any other cosmetics. Is there anything that I can do to stop the chapping?"

Use a bland castile soap and tepid water for cleansing your skin. Always rinse carefully. Apply a small amount of softening cream and leave it on a few minutes, then wipe away that which remains and rinse again with cold water. Then I think you might be permitted a light dusting of face powder. You will have to talk that over with your mother, however. Use lotion every time you wash your hands and massage them occasionally with softening cream and wipe away the excess.

QUESTION: "I am a brunette and acquire a rich tan every summer. However, I would like to know what colors I should wear to bring out the rich tones of my skin.—Martha."

Coral, dusky pink, greenish blues, pale yellow and the hard vivid shades will bring out the flattering brown shades of your skin. White is the best of all and you can wear sports, afternoon black or dark brown make your skin look sallow and yellowish. You can wear natural linen and light brown, however.

Off-the-Face Style

Smart and off the face is this new hat worn by Eleanor Powell, Hollywood's newest star, and a former Broadway favorite. The hat is red, with a cockade of black grosgrain ribbon.

Handbags-Shoes Mated By Stylists

By IRENE VAIL

New York—Marking time as we are until the curtain not only rises but the fashion show opens, it is just as well to look over accessories appearing, and to dwell on the incidental details and gadgets which do so much for the fashion picture.

Hand bags fundamentally designed to step out with certain shoes are likely to complicate the plot for women who must dress in a jiffy, but shoes and bags in similar leather and color are not irrevocably mated. Designers have been clever about giving them independence, not deeming it necessary for one to depend on the other for effect. Related shoes and handbags are a foregone conclusion.

There is no reason to discard an envelope bag because so many of the smartest have a handle of one sort or another. There is no justification for saying that a bag should be such and such a shape or this or that size. Whatever one may have against fashions in general, it cannot be that enough rope is not given to hang oneself, and this goes no matter what costume unit is under discussion.

There is again neck wear for necklaces, chokers, or clips—maybe and clips, since there are women who do not consider themselves too bejeweled when wearing both a string of pearls and the omnipresent clips holding the collar or collarless bodice in shape.

Any analysis of the season must place as one of the most important details and must give the tunic a high rating. Need one say the suit tops them or that the separate coat retains its hold? The separate coat plays many parts and may be printed instead of plain, darker instead of lighter than the dress. In fact it may be anything as long as it contributes a note of distinction. At the moment taffeta coats are outstanding, but some autumn wool is bound to gain the lead, interesting rivalry being sensed between wool and our old friend velvet.

Modes and Manners

QUESTION: "May wedding invitations be mailed out a week before a wedding is to take place? Or is the notice given too short?"—Mrs. H. L.

ANSWER: A wedding is too important an event to be given so short notice. Many friends who would like to be present at the wedding would doubtless find it impossible to break off engagements previously made. Wedding invitations should be mailed out not later than fifteen days before the date of a wedding. They may be mailed out as early as four weeks in advance of this date.

Frozen Desserts Right To Top Off Heavy Meal

By JUDITH WILSON

HAVE you ever known a good cook who didn't know exactly what to serve for dessert? The dessert should round out the complete meal. If the food is heavy, then a cool, light combination of fruit, a crispy meringue with berries, or a frozen dessert is just right. If the meal consists mostly of cold, light food, then the dessert should be warm and nourishing.

The dessert, being the last thing eaten, is remembered longest, so it is worth your while to make it as attractive as possible and to make sure that it fits the meal.

Put two cups washed and pitted cherries, and one cup diced pineapple in a greased shallow baking dish and sprinkle with one-half cup or more sugar. Mix and sift two cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder, one teaspoon salt and one-half cup sugar together and cut in four tablespoons shortening. Beat one egg until very light and add to three-fourths cup milk and add to the pastry mixture. Add one-half cup chopped nuts and mix thoroughly. Drop by spoonfuls over the top of the fruit and bake in a moderate oven for half an hour. Cut in squares and serve warm with sweetened whipped cream. If the batter is dropped over the top of the fruit in small amounts about an inch apart, the crust is easily divided for serving.

Corn Flake Apple Betty
Peel, core and slice two pounds cooking apples. You will need three cups corn flakes, one-half cup sugar, one-half cup chopped nuts, one-fourth cup seedless raisins, one teaspoon cinnamon and two tablespoons butter. Cover the bottom of a buttered baking dish with the corn flakes, add a layer of chopped apples, sprinkle with sugar, cinnamon and some of the nuts and raisins and dot with butter. Repeat until you have used all of the ingredients, having a layer of the flakes on top. Dot liberally with butter. Bake in a moderate oven until the apples are tender—about forty minutes.

Meringue Cake
Mix and sift together one and one-fourth cups pastry flour, one and one-fourth cups baking powder and one-eighth teaspoon salt. Cream four tablespoons butter or other shortening and add one-half cup sugar—gradually, beating until the mixture is light and fluffy. Add the unbeaten yolks of two eggs, one at a time, beating thoroughly after each addition. Add the four mixture alternately with seven tablespoons milk and one-half teaspoon vanilla. Pour into a greased square pan, 9 x 9 x 2 inches. Beat the whites of the eggs until very stiff adding one-half cup sugar gradually and beating until the mixture will stand in peaks. Spread over the cake batter and bake in a moderate oven forty-five minutes. Let stand ten minutes to cool, then remove carefully from the pan. Cut into three-inch squares and serve topped with vanilla ice cream or crushed, sweetened fruit.

SILVER FOX YEAR

This autumn will find silver fox very much in favor, style experts say. Two separate silver fox skins fashion this smart cape worn by June Knight, of the films. June fastens the heads together, crosses the skins at the back and brings them to the front again, securing them in position by tying the feet.

MODERN WOMEN

Girl Who Runs Around With Married Man Forfeits Sympathy

By MARIAN MAYS MARTIN

A GIRL who allows herself to become entangled with a married man is not going to find sympathy anywhere but in the dictionary. She's in the outlaw class and must take the consequences. What is more, she is bound to get the worst of it in some way. Her alibi of not meaning any harm isn't going to stand up. If she's irresponsible on no other score, she is guilty of being a fool and that is the unforgivable crime in any society.

You and Your Child

Proper Prompting Reveals Generous Streak

By JANE HERBERT GOWARD

WALTER has been performing in the swimming pool for his mother and little sister. Now the nine-year-old was coming toward them smiling, anxious to find out what mother thought of his stroke.

"Let me have it for just five minutes," mother urged. "He wants to play with it." "I want to play with it," Betty remonstrated in whiny tones. At this point some mothers would have said, "You see that she does not want to give it up. Walter, let her have it; she's just a baby."

But Betty's mother knows that she is not generous by nature. That at first it is a matter, more or less, of "I'll do this for you, if you do that for me." And that as a rule the younger child has to be stimulated by the parent into doing his share of giving where an older child is concerned. Mother motioned to Walter to go back into the pool and walked away with Betty. "Poor Walter," she said, "he wants the ball very much. You're not playing with it and you won't let him have it." Betty tossed the ball in the air once, but her heart was not in it. She hung around looking very glum for a while. Then suddenly she ran to the pool, the hand with the ball in it outstretched, looking for brother. Following some emotional conflict, a generous impulse had been born in her, thanks to proper prompting.

Of course, they had a terrible scene. He denied everything and thinks it's all blown over, but I have better sense than that. What can I do? I have not seen her since it all happened and I am terribly unhappy, because I really did not mean to make trouble. I don't want to break up any woman's home, and I hear that she is very bitter about the whole thing. I suppose you will advise me to. I really think he cares a great deal for me.

—Gerry.

Sympathy Not Deserved

You deserve to be unhappy. A woman who plays around with a married man is not entitled to sympathy, no matter how much of a fam she is in because of it. You have had ample time to realize the way things were headed and to wait a stop to them. No wonder his wife is bitter. Wouldn't you be? The strange part of it is that the greatest fuss when their own husbands develop a roving eye. It's rather late in the day for you to try to make amends, but by all means lose no time in ending this entanglement. Somebody's feelings are sure to get hurt in any situation such as you describe, and it's only justice that they should be the feelings of the one who is to blame for bringing about such a situation. You should not have allowed this man to single you out for his attentions in the first place, and you are not going to find your little world any more sympathetic with you than I am.

You cannot expect to build your happiness on the misery of another or to build your future on a broken home. Stop seeing this man at once and the next time a married man shows symptoms of devoting himself to you send him about his business.

Master of Cheapening

Most women want to marry, perhaps not this year or next, but eventually. There is nothing that will turn a prospective husband into a dyed-in-the-wool bachelor quicker than to learn that the girl he might marry is married was capable of cheapening herself by having an affair with a married man.

"My dear Mrs. Martin: I am very much indebted to some friends for entertainments, and for many little kindnesses, and I am unhappy because there is no way that I can repay them. I have no money, and no home in which to entertain them, and I am very sensitive about continuing to accept favors. I sometimes wonder whether they are patronizing me and it makes me furious. What can I do? I am fond of them, and would not hurt their feelings for the world."

Super-sensitive people are always building up cases in which they see themselves patronized by insolent overbearing persons. It's a pity for their friends are usually only trying to be kind and if insolent would be insolent anyway, whether they were dispensing patronage or not.

You are to be commended for not wanting to be under obligation to any one, but on the other hand, give yourself credit for not soliciting favors. There may be a very good reason for your friends wanting to have you around. If they really are fond of you they will avoid placing you in an uncomfortable position.

OLD PEOPLE find way to keep breath wholesome

Halitosis (bad breath) quickly yields to Listerine, safe antiseptic and deodorant.

Either because of stomach disturbances, food fermentation, or the wearing of false teeth, old people frequently have halitosis (bad breath). No wonder others consider them a nuisance. But how Science has found that the regular use of Listerine will often overcome offensive mouth odors due to the fermentation of tiny bits of food on mouth, teeth, or dental plate surfaces. This safe antiseptic and quick deodorant works quickly. It cleanses mouth, teeth, and throat, a major cause of odors, and then counteracts the odors themselves. Try using Listerine every two or three days. See how much more wholesome it leaves your mouth. How it sweetens your breath. Lambert Pharmaceutical Co., St. Louis, Mo.

tion to "sit tight and see what happens."

GAINS IMPETUS

The strike, voted by union workers here and expected also to involve some of the 85,000 non-union employees on PWA projects, appeared tonight to be gaining impetus although the exact number of strikers could not be ascertained today.

Union leaders here predicted all of the 15,000 skilled workers would be out by Monday.

George Meany, president of the New York State Federation of Labor, wanted it made clear that the strike was not primarily an A. F. of L. undertaking, but a strike of local unions acting in accord.

SERVE NOTICE

Also he pointed out that he did not plan to induce unions in other cities to join the wage protest strike.

But in Cleveland building trades officials served notice that building craftsmen there would not work on planned PWA projects for less than the prevailing rate of pay.

In Newark, N. J., the Essex County Building Trades Council voted to forbid its members to work on WPA jobs at the "subsidized wage."

PROTEST MADE

In De Moines, Ia., the State Labor Federation president called for a labor protest meeting against the WPA wage scale. In Harrisburg, Pa., the Pennsylvania State Federation of Labor and the Pennsylvania Security League circulated petitions appealing to President Roosevelt to intercede.

A. F. L. IN WARNING

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 9.—UP—Union Labor will continue its opposition to the subsidized wage. President William Green of the American Federation of Labor indicated tonight following a meeting of the executive council.

"We expressed our views on the security wage before Congress when he asked them to pass the McGarran amendment," said Green. "We warned them of what would happen, and it is beginning to happen."

"We have done all we can. Our policy is known and we intend to take no further action."

APPOINT BOARD

The executive council instructed Green to exert all possible influence to effect the appointment of a national labor relations board to function under the Wagner Labor Disputes Act.

Green said he would communicate immediately with Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins.

Security Act Passed Bill Goes To Roosevelt Only Three Vote No

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9. (UP)—The New Deal social security bill imposing taxes of $2,713,000,000 annually by 1939 upon employers and workers to pension the aged and aid the sick, the blind and the blind, was given final congressional approval today and sent to the White House for President Roosevelt's signature.

Months of vigorous controversy over the measure conceived by Mr. Roosevelt to prevent distress and suffering in a land of plenty, ended in the Senate by conference of the two Houses. There was no record vote. The House approved it yesterday without opposition.

In completed form, the bill carries appropriations totaling $94,491,000 for the fiscal year 1936 as the government's share of the program. This sum does not include an authorized grant of $4,000,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1936, and $49,000,000 for each subsequent fiscal year to defray the cost of administering one project in the bill.

One of the few who voted "no" today was Senator Daniel O. Hastings, Republican, Delaware. Senator Bennett C. Clark, Democrat, Missouri, whose amendment to exempt private pension systems from the terms of the act, was stricken out in conference, said the bill did not please him, but he voted for it.

MEASURE EXPLAINED

Three broad classifications of the nation's social problem are covered by the measure:

1. Old age security.
2. Unemployment insurance.
3. Financial aid to dependent children, the blind, the crippled, and to public health agencies.

Under the first classification, the government appropriated $19,750,000 to care for the immediate, urgent problem of assisting persons now 65 or more who are destitute. This money will be used to match dollar for dollar funds now provided by states to care for their aged and indigent. The maximum Federal contribution will be $15 a month.

LIMIT MEASURE

Government contributions will be limited to states or local governments already having pension systems or those which initiate one suitable to federal authorities.

It is estimated that there are now approximately 1,000,000 men and women over 65 years of age who are dependent upon public support. Thirty three states and the territories of Alaska and Hawaii already have pension laws.

Federal old age benefits will be paid from a national fund to be raised by taxing the employer and the employee beginning in 1937. The levy is fixed at one per cent on all ditch officer, Victor A. Wright, engineering officer, W. Turner Johnson, Jr., radio officer; Fred H. Noonan, navigator, and H. R. Canaday, assistant navigator. Tilton and Weyer were newcomers to the crew.

FAVORABLE WEATHER

At Honolulu Phillip Yerst, assistant engineering officer, will join the Clipper and fly to Wake.

Weather being the least Sikorsky plane was reported favorable along most of the route.

When the Clipper arrives at Wake she will be greeted by eight men stationed there since the steamer North Haven left the lonely mid-Pacific dot almost two months ago. A similar number awaited the plane at Midway Islands, 1,242 miles beyond Honolulu.

SEEK DATA

Weather data, engineering information, and radio coordination will be sought in the flight, which continues the company's thrust westward in Pacific air lanes. Powerful radio directional stations at Alameda, at Makopu Point near Honolulu, and at Midway and Wake will guide the Clipper as she flies westward.

Three weeks have been allotted for the plane to complete the round trip to Wake, which consists of three sandy islets, guarded by a coral reef. Later the Clipper was expected to fly to Guam, next stop on the trans-Pacific route, and Manila.

The Wake group, formerly uninhabited, lies almost 2,000 miles beyond Honolulu. A complete airport has been installed, similar to that at Midway, goal of the Clipper's last major flight in June.

sustainable more money than heretofore. The reason for this is that the assessed valuation of the county has been raised by order of the State Board of Equalization and in addition the return of public utilities to the rolls adds about fifteen million dollars more for taxable purposes.

The supervisors, he it said to their credit, are making valiant efforts to bring about a situation whereby our tax bills—the amount we actually pay out of our pockets in hard, cold cash—will be considerably less than in the past. Their efforts should receive the cooperation of all elements. This is no time for a drunken tax spree. Changes in the old age pension law throw an additional heavy burden upon us, and one we are forced to meet, but we can do it, with the additions to the tax rolls mentioned and yet be entitled to a cut in the amount we pay for the support of the various activities of our county government.

Already the supervisors have demonstrated sincerity in their desire to help by trimming out of the sum $105,000 of non-essentials. Perhaps if they look around a little more they will find other places where the paring knife can be used very effectively.

WHO PAYS THE BILL?

While I am thoroughly in accord with the purposes of Proposition No. 1—enlargement of our State eleemosynary institutions to take care of our sick, dependents and unfortunates—which will head the ballot at the special election next Tuesday, I cannot help but wonder who is paying the bill for the deluge of propaganda that daily floods my desk?

Someone, identity not yet disclosed, is evidencing an unusual interest in the matter; an interest that extends to the sending out of all manner of publicity, cuts, etc., telling us why we should vote affirmatively on one and all of the propositions. The cause is good, conditions demand that we take care of our ailing brothers, and I, for one, propose to cast my ballot for them. Too much protestation on any subject always arouses a feeling of suspicion and that has been the effect on me in this instance. Perhaps a group of "big hearts" are putting up the coin, but I have seldom run ahead of any such philanthropists unless there was a concealed Senegambian in the nearby luxuriant foliage.

SOAK RICH RATES WILL BE REDUCED

of the tax plan until the entire bill is written.

One member of the committee predicted that one of the changes would be to remove the surtax in excess of incomes between $5,000 and $10,000,000.

President Roosevelt has recommended that Congress start the increase in taxes at $1,000,000 of income. Instead, the House dipped down into lower brackets and began raising rates at $50,000. The present surtax on a $50,000 income is 20 per cent; the House voted to make it 21 per cent and to graduate it. It levies up and until the government will get 25 per cent of incomes of $1,000,000 or more. It now gets only 23 per cent.

ALL DISSATISFIED

Both Democrats and Republicans on the Senate committee are dissatisfied with the House bill. Chairman Pat Harrison of the finance committee indicated he opposed the excess profits tax in the House bill. President Roosevelt recommended a graduated corporation tax ranging from 10 to 14 to 16 to 34 per cent. The House graduated the tax in a much narrower range 13 to 14 to 14 to 14.

Under the House bill the amount of the tax would depend on the size of earnings of the corporation. The present rate is 13 to 14 per cent on all corporations.

If the Senate sticks closely to President Roosevelt's recommendations, it will have to eliminate the section of the bill which brings in the biggest single chunk of revenue. That is the excess profits tax, which has a yield of between $90,000,000 and $100,000,000 a year. The House wrote that section into the bill against the wishes of President Roosevelt.

Ethiopian Chiefs Pledge Fealty To King Of Kings

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia, Aug. 9. (UP)—Ethiopian plenipotentiary escorted by armed retinues came to Addis Ababa today to receive from Emperor Haile Selassie the orders which will send their troops into battle if the threatened Italian invasion materializes when the rains start next month.

Territories bordering Eritrea and Italian Somaliland will be guarded in the initial stages of war by troops commanded by Ras (tribal chiefs). The Ras marched in steady procession through the palace for sealed orders from their supreme commander.

Ethiopian officials estimated Italy has concentrated 100,000 troops on the Eritrean frontier and 50,000 troops on the Italian-Somaliland frontier.

But the Ethiopian army has not yet been mobilized. The conquering Lion of Judah has collected troops in considerable numbers at only four points. Officials said only skeleton forces are within 100 miles of the border because Ethiopia is determined to avoid blame for possible frontier incidents.

Two vessels were held because of an embargo declared against handling from or destined for all British Columbia ports. Charged by union men that non-union Filipino workers were employed aboard two other vessels resulted in work being halted on them.

The Calmar, one of the freighters affected, recently was in collision with a Japanese freighter off the Golden Gate. A cargo of lumber was to have been removed from her today preparatory to dry docking for repairs.

Three other ships were reported tied up in Vancouver, B. C., and one at San Pedro during recent weeks.

William J. Lewis, district president of the International Longshoremen's Association, announced today that action on a proposed coastwide union ballot on raising the embargo against British Columbia shipments would be considered Monday.

Toulon Blood Deluge Ceases

PARIS, Aug. 9. (UP)—Fusillades fired by troops dodging snipers' bullets brought calm to Toulon and other ports today as the government continued to pour steel-helmeted soldiers into danger areas to prevent further mass demonstrations against Premier Pierre Laval's economy decrees.

At Toulon, where three were killed and many wounded in bloody clashes yesterday, union officials met workers when they ended their tasks for the day.

"There has been enough blood," they said. "Laval has had his little play. It has cost the life blood of three men. Now let us answer by attending the victims' funerals."

ANCIENT HINDUS NAMED SOLDIERS' BOW AND ARROW EQUIPMENT "SIP." LATER THIS WAS ELABORATED TO "SIPAH" (SOLDIER) AND FROM THIS WE GOT "SEPOY," TO MEAN AN INDIAN SOLDIER IN THE EMPLOY OF THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT.

THIS POPULAR NAME FOR A HORSE GOES BACK TO ITS USE BY SHAKESPEARE IN THE MERCHANT OF VENICE, WHERE OLD GOBBO SAYS TO LAUNCELOT: "THOU HAST GOT MORE HAIR ON THY CHIN, THAN DOBBIN MY PHILHORSE HAS ON HIS TAIL."
